JUDGE SEAWELL'S SON JAILED

HUIERTA MAY STEP DOWN

HIS ATTITUDE CHANGES

Action of Congress Relieves Him of the Responsibility

Leader Bitter at Enemies in Own Country

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson, it became known today, interprets the situation in Mexico to indicate that the Huerta government is disintegrating and that Huerta will eventually be eliminated.

The President said no summary instructions had been sent to Charge O'Shaughnessy and that no positive steps or actions not already published had been taken.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—It was regarded here today as not entirely impossible that President Huerta, after having, through the ratification of the new congress relieved himself from the danger of being called to account for his acts by some future administration, might be brought to the point of self-elimination through the efforts of the foreign powers supporting the United States government.

It was not generally expected today that Huerta on the convening of congress at 6 o'clock this evening would encounter much of the obstructionist tactics which characterized the last congress as the new deputies were known to be in sympathy with his policies. On their meeting, General Huerta, it was assumed, would automatically forfeit the self-imposed powers which he has enjoyed since the dissolution of the two houses early last month.

One of the first steps the new congress was expected to take was the ratification of all the acts since he has been dictator and that the two houses would be asked to do this was plainly indicated in his message to them. The obtaining of this ratification of his acts was currently reported to have been one of the reasons why General Huerta so obstinately opposed the pressure brought to bear on him by the United States and other nations to withdraw and face himself.

WHY DIDN'T RESIGN.—The provisional president is said by those believed to be in a position to know, to have been persuaded that he must resign and have named Manuel Garza Aldape, minister of the interior, as the man he desired to succeed him, when the insistence of John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, in abolition of the new congress caused him to change his attitude and reflect the idea of resigning.

Up to the moment of the last representation made to him by John Lind, the friends of the provisional president, say he frequently telephoned Sen. Aldape as one of the most worthy to be head of the Mexican government and he appeared to look with some degree of equanimity on the idea of turning over the presidency to him.

The marked manner in which Provisional President Huerta displayed his cordiality toward Sen. Aldape, the American Charge D'Affaires, and the way in which he applauded the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" at yesterday's reception in Chapultepec Castle, were subjects of much comment today.

HUERTA SEEMED CORDIAL.—General Huerta did not converse at length with any of the diplomats, except O'Shaughnessy with whom he spoke privately for quarter of an hour.

The provisional president appeared to be in high spirits while he was informing O'Shaughnessy of the substance of the message he was about to deliver to the new congress and telling him that he would send a copy to the American Embassy in advance of its delivery.

At the same time Senors Huerta showed great cordiality in her reception of Mrs. O'Shaughnessy.

The reception was on a very elaborate scale and the rooms were profusely decorated with flowers. The refreshment bill alone amounted to $20,000.

Besides the diplomats, the high military officers, the leading civilian officials and their wives nearly all the members of the new congress were present.

WASHINGTON AWARDS MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The eyes of official Washington were turned to the new congress and Huerta's message on his recent assumption of dictatorial powers. The possibility that the new congress might act on concessions disregarded by the United States, was thought in many quarters to be a pivot on which the next move by this government might turn. Those who have been of the opinion that Huerta should retire after his acts had been referred by the congress, still had confidence in their theory. So far as can be learned, the American government means to continue its plan of

IDENTIFIS CLOTHES CACHED BY BANDIT

May Lead to Arrest of Shore Line Desperado

Clothes which had been worn by the bandit who held up the Shore Line Limited last week were found by a postal inspector cached in a pipe on the railroad line, near Redwood City, and have been identified positively by the postal clerk as being those of the man who held them up. Marks of identification such as those of the maker or seller of the clothes had been cut and torn from the garments, making it almost impossible to trace the bandit by this method.

The clothes found were an old pair of overalls, jumper and an old sheep hat.

Postal Inspectors F. H. Roberts and Leon and brought the clothes to the Oakland Police Department today and Inspector St. Clair Hodges was detailed to accompany them to the various pawn shops and second-hand clothes stores in Oakland in an effort to have some one of the storekeepers identify the garments in the hopes that this might lead to finding a clue that will lead to the capture of the bandit.

"It is like looking for a needle in a haystack," said Inspector Leonard today. "We have little hopes that these clothes will help us very far, but we are not overlooking any chances that will help us capture this man."

Southern Pacific operatives and postal detectives today renewed their efforts to find the man who had been found near Richmond last week, working on several new clues with the release of Edward A. Fiske, the San Mateo man who has been found of pressure from without.

Resolution Providing for Straight Saloon License Is Passed

The resolution eliminating the cabaret features from the most objectionable cafes in Oakland and reducing them to straight saloons was passed by the city council today, with the date of the change raised from January 1 to March 1, and with Tod and Red's, a cafe at 429-431 Tenth street, taken from the list and allowed to retain its cafe privileges.

The cafes to be changed to saloons by the resolution are as follows: Tavern, 372 Seventh street; Savoy, Ninth and Broadway; Lodge, 487 Seventh street; Hoffman, 430-432 Seventh street; Grotto, Eighth and Broadway; Frank's 532 Franklin street; H. & H., 509 Eleventh street, and Nevada, 383 Eleventh street.

Tod and Red's place was named some months ago as one of the objectionable cafes. It was a cabaret of low order, with women entertainers and a clientele of patrons from the lower walks of life and from the underworld, and was a favorite spot in the night life of the city.

NOT UNDER POLICE

The bureau will not come under the jurisdiction of the police in any way and will have no official connection with the police department.

As a result the two employees in the new bureau will have no police powers.

Some difficulties are anticipated with regard to the civil service standing of the two women to be appointed. It is understood that the bureau will come under civil service regulations, but if the two women named by Mayor Mott are to take the positions they will have to be appointed on emergency appointment.

The matter was referred to Chief of Police Peter J. Petersen. Petersen reported today that the place had been conducted in an orderly manner in the past months. Petersen made no formal recommendation in the matter, however, but stated conditions as they exist to-day.

NOT SAME PLACE

Since the council took a stand in favor of the resolution many months ago, Tod and Red's place was named some months ago as one of the objectionable cafes. It was a cabaret of low order, with women entertainers and a clientele of patrons from the lower walks of life and from the underworld, and was a favorite spot in the night life of the city.

OUTLINE PRELIMINARY WORK OF REPUBLICANS

Committee of Fifteen Named to Co-operate With State Central Committee in Reorganization of Party

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Representing all parts of the State, more than 100 delegates gathered yesterday at the St. Francis Hotel in conference with the Republican State Central Committee, to outline the coming campaign and perfect plans for their political fight. Gustave Brenner acted as chairman of the gathering. Following many addresses a committee of 15 was named to co-operate with the State Central Committee, and co-ordinated the only meeting way to victory.

A letter was read from Congressman Joseph R. Knowland in which he regretted his inability to attend the session. He was a speaker at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland, where prominent United States engineers and delegates from the Alameda and Oakland the east bay harbor. It was for that reason that he was unable to attend the San Francisco session.

It was decided that the committee include at least two women, this latter motion of Storridge. The committee appointed by the chairman, and which rendered a partial report, authorizing the organization to go ahead, was made up of the following: J. O. Hayes (chairman), Leroy Wright, E. J. Wolfe, Charles Horner, W. C. Newton, Robert Swett, W. R. Bacon, Thomas Flirt Jr., Charles W. Estes, D. D. Bowman, E. L. Edwards, and C. E. Clinton.

In making its partial report, after it had been absent for two months, the central committee of Brenner to go ahead, and start the campaign, and a sub-committee was named to take up the legal side of the status of the committee and party.

TO FILL VACANCIES.

In regard to vacancies on the State Central Committee, J. P. Bobo of San Francisco thought that the county committees should be given the power to name them, but it was decided that the conference had confidence enough.

Dr. D. Gochenauer of San Diego said that the Republican party needed no reorganization. "The principles of Republicans need no reorganization," he said. "All we need is a chance for those principles to assert themselves."

He read the plan of the San Diegans for reorganization, which was:

That delegates to the Republican National Convention be so arranged that each delegate sitting in said convention shall represent an equal number of Republican voters, whether the delegates come from the north, south, east or west.

That the manner of selection of the delegates to said National Convention be determined by the Republican State Central Committee in all States, except those States where primary laws determine the same, and in those last mentioned States let the delegates be elected by primary, in accordance with the law.

That in case of contested elections as to delegates, that in all the States be determined by the Republican State Central Committee, except in those States where the law provides primaries for the election of same, and in those States the contest be settled by the courts.

That the National Committee shall fix the number of delegates which shall constitute a national convention.

That the Republican State Central Committee of the State of California shall recommend to each Republican County Central Committee the time and purpose for holding a Republican county caucus convention, and among those purposes may be the selection of delegates to the State and Congressional conventions, and recommendations for nominations for the various county officers.

RECOGNIZES CHANGES.

The Republican party of the State of California recognizes the changed and changing industrial and commercial conditions throughout the country, and we recommend the necessity of meeting all such conditions with prompt and proper legislation.

That our party do adhere to long and prospective reduction of the protective tariff which shall equal in amount the difference between wages here and abroad, and which shall once more, as it always has, bring prosperity and progress not only to our State, but to our entire country; that we are not wedded to schedules, but believe some schedules should be raised and some lowered, but we earnestly believe that a non-partisan commission can best deal with this question.

That the proper authorities in our party in this State shall assist in bringing about a special National Republican Convention to consider those matters affecting delegates to the National Republican Convention, their mode and manner of elections and the powers of the National Republican Committee.

That we earnestly recommend that from this day on a campaign of education be waged throughout the State in behalf of the principles of the Republican party.

LOS ANGELES REPORTS.

McCallum read his resolutions from Los Angeles Republicans for reorganization, which were:

That the said Republican State Central Committee of California be it, it is hereby requested and directed to issue immediately an official call for the reorganization of the Republican party of the State of California addressed to all the Republican electors of said State.

Resolved further, That said call shall contain the following provisions and directions, to wit:

First—For the holding of a Republican County Convention in each county in the State of California, at the county seats of said counties, by delegates selected by the Republicans of each precinct in said counties. At each said County Republican Convention the following business shall be transacted:

Organize convention.

Adopt resolutions and platform.

Elect delegates to State Republican Convention.

Elect Chairman of County Central Republican Committee.

Second—For holding of a State Republican Convention by the delegates elected by the County Committees provided for in the preceding paragraph numbered First, at which said State Central Convention the following business shall be transacted:

Organize convention.

Election of a chairman of Republican State Central Committee.

Election of one member of the Republican State Central Committee from each county and ten members at large.

Election of member of the National Republican Committee for the State of California.

Third—The apportionment of delegates to the State Convention from each county shall be—for each—voter cast which county for the last Republican candidate for Governor.

Fourth—At the primaries from each county shall, with the chairman elected by the County Convention, constitute the County Central Committee of the party, and shall have full power to nominate candidates for the primaries from each county, and to elect a chairman of the party in each county.

month, while the assistant will receive $125 per month. The duties of the office will comprehend those of an advisor to women and girls in trouble, to care for girls called as witnesses in cases of sexual crime, to co-operate with the probation officer, prosecuting attorney and chief of police, and to work for the moral uplift of the city.

The commissioners agreed some months ago that something should be done for the women's protective bureau, and referred the matter to Mayor Mott. The mayor accepted in part the plan outlined by the women to that effect, but it has not yet been placed under the jurisdiction of Chief Peter R. It was asked why that was the case this morning. Commissioner Baccus favoring the plan of making the plan of making the bureau a division of the police department.

PARTIAL REPORT MADE.

"We, your committee of fifteen, appointed by the chair, have organized by

S. W. McVabb, secretary, and respectfully submit the following partial report:

We recommend that the State Central Committee, created by Gustave Brenner, proceed immediately to the organization of Republican committees in every county, and in the State, and that every effort be made to bring about as large a registration as possible, commanding far greater numbers of Republicans of the State as possible.

We further request that the Republican party of the State call the attention of the electors of the Republican party in California to organize for the coming election, and to fight for Republican principles and candidates.

We further recommend that the State Central Committee, be authorized and directed to take the necessary steps to conduct an educational campaign in the interest of the Republican party, and that when such organization shall be well under way that other representative bodies be called together that a second and larger conference of Republicans be called, the time and place to be determined by the State Committee.

message, in which, after pronouncing a sanction of congress, he added that this was withheld and authority entrusted to another he and his ministers were agreed in advance to accept such a result, was regarded with some significance as indicating that Huerta himself had at last recognized the possibility of his own elimination.

Some officials declared there was no new move in prospect for the immediate future. It was also said that no instructions of a final character had gone forth to charge O'Shaughnessy.

The departure of William Bayard Hale from Nogales, after parleying with the constitutionalists, was also said to be a factor in the delay. It was regarded possible that officials here would await Mr. Hale's return to hear first hand information for making another move.

ENGLAND ASKS PROTECTION.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The United States Embassy in London, acting on the personal request of Lord Cowdray, cabled to Washington today, asking the American government to extend its protection to the imperiled interests in Mexico of the Pearson concern.

Lord Cowdray declared that the presence of United States battleships at Tampico had a salutary effect in the preventing of the destruction of the property of the concern and that he would appreciate a continuance of such protection.

Lord Cowdray also asked Ambassador Page to convey to Washington his denial of having extended financial or other assistance to Huerta.

ISSUE SMALL BILLS.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—As a measure to relieve the difficult small money problem arising out of the restriction of silver circulation, President Huerta today issued an order authorizing banks of issue to one and two peso bills. The smallest bills hitherto in circulation have been 50 centavos.

TAXES INCREASED.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—One of the last acts of Provisional President Huerta as dictator before the new congress placed a restriction on his powers was an edict today making a sweeping increase in internal taxes of Mexico. The stamp tax which requires a revenue stamp on checks, receipts, contracts and all documents of a public nature was doubled. The tax on tobacco, alcohol and crude petroleum was heavily increased.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY

If Little Stomach Is Sour, Liver
Torpid and Bowels
Clogged.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half-dead, not resting, eating and acting naturally—see Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When once irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath short, or has stomachache, diarrhea.
To throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving the harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its taste.

Labels, unprinted at 10¢ each and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

BEST MEN LEAVE
CANAL, IS REPORT

Visiting Congressmen Say the Adamson Act Should Be Put in Force.

PANAMA, Nov. 20.—Colonel Eugene
Wilson, who has conducted the commissary of the canal, yesterday frankly told Congressman Murdell of the appropriation committee that the delay in reorganization is impeding the success of the canal. Colonel Goethals has been talking to the visiting committee men along similar lines. Congressman Murdell questioned Colonel Wilson regarding the reorganization of his department. Colonel Wilson said, "I am going to do my best; I am not ready to retire any time. I can turn over, on short notice, my department—the quicker the better, because all the good men are leaving the service. I am only too anxious to get positions elsewhere will be left and they are undesirable in the permanent organization."

Afterward, Congressman
Murdell said:

"The needs of the situation here are perfectly clear. The Adamson act should be put in force at once. Colonel Goethals, as the director of the canal, is the man that is best qualified to operate."

Congressman Campbell of Idaho, on the committee, said:

"The Wilson administration intends to turn its back on the economic plans in the Adamson act. A mistake was being made."

Congressman Burchfield of Pennsylvania expressed views along similar lines.

AILING WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Hilbert Tells of Her Distressing Symptoms During Change of Life and How She Found Relief.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do.

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong well-woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HIL-BERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite,
weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly helped by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-

female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

Mrs. VICTOR MCTIGUE
Gets Bail Reduced;
Then Disappears

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—After Cleverly bringing about the reduction of his bail from $500 to $100, A. A. C.
Ames, accused of embezzlement, has disappeared. Superior Judge Dunn today ordered his bond forfeited and issued a bench warrant for his apprehension.

Martha R. Hathway is the complaining witness against Ames and accused him of misappropriating $500. His attorney, Carroll Cook, stated this morning that he was looking for Ames, but Judge Dunn, who reduced the bail, refused to tem-porize and ordered the issue forfeited.

At the time the reduction was made Ames claimed to have been forced to put up bonds in other courts for smaller offenses and thereby induced Judge Dunn to let him off with $100.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who try to gain weight is that they insist on drumming their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless
"flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You can eat for an hour and still not assimilate the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden material. This new science of chemistry is called Sarcol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders.

Sarcol aims through its re-generative processes to renew the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements you eat and pass them into the blood, where they are distributed to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily imagine the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows under your eyes, and your body disappears. You can take on from 10 to 15 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sarcol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Osgood Drug Stores of Oakland and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee.

Police and an Inspiration.

"Don't be afraid of a policeman." This is what Chief of Police White of San Francisco would inspire among the youngsters of his city. He would have school children admire the stars and not gaze at the moon. In this the chief is full of thought, but is lacking of logic.

What civilization wants, and we say civilization advisedly, is a community that desires its children to avoid wrong by the very fear of doing it. If the arm of the law should palsy in its duty, then, of course, there is no need to fear the limb.

Teaching children not to be afraid of policemen is not near so hard a task as teaching criminals to fear them. The child is tractable; the criminal is not.

The child is susceptible to his inoffensive and altogether immature ideas of evil and his equally undeveloped reasoning for good. But in the balance good wins, and the child is better for it.

One might say that a child should not fear Divine retribution, but this would apply only in the abstract. All the world is childish and we are proud of it, when it comes to immaterial and even material things.

But to return to the subject of the police and Chief White—also the children. Why not place the fear of policemen and even children greater than the fear of angels?

Why not have the criminal fear a policeman as much as does a child? Why subordinate a great municipal organization maintained at large expense to the whims and caprices of the jolly thug who is frequently entirely too friendly with the patrolman?

The child can get along all right if he is given the opportunity.

Mayhap we can put suggestions to Chief White that he would be willing to accept:

A good school for a good child and a good policeman on a bad beat.

Good wages for those who can locate the bad in both good and bad neighborhoods.

Above all, a police department that will "make good" and one that will not allow both municipal authority and the crook, the blind leading the blind, to fall into the pit.

Word from Stockton's baby show that the West leads the East in bigger and better babies, is sad news for Pacific Coast exponents of eugenic marriages. There's no work for them in this Burbank climate.

The long and short man are always the long and short of every crime a detective can't find a clew to.

News that France has one saloon for every 82 persons comes on the heels of an official report that the birth rate of that country is decreasing at an alarming rate.

Why Is Socialism?

"How long will Socialism endure?" is the title of a treatise on politico-sociology. As long as there is social grievances demanding redress and social evils to correct. Socialism is a protest against the infirmities of our social organization and an expression of dissent with the prevailing methods of correcting those infirmities. Socialism is not constructive, but it forces reconstruction along more altruistic lines. It is idealism which would defeat its own object if permitted to carry its theories to a logical conclusion. But it will persist as long as society and governments fail in their duty to their individual members. As a protest it demands a hearing, however faulty it may be as a theory of construction, as long as it can point an accusing finger at cradible evils and at conditions which cry aloud for amelioration, it will appeal to the thwarted hopes and repressed aspirations of the class that has been aptly denominated the "submerged tenth." It is the cry of the under dog who feels that he has not been given a fair show. It is the general complaint of the disinherited, the crippled, wounded and weaklings who suffer under conditions which they find hard and in many cases unjust.

Socialism is an idyllic vision which men saw, as in their dreams, when the world was young. It is a vision of Paradise on earth. It became the formulated hope of men who imagined that the destiny of the human race could be worked out, without friction and injustice, under a system which would make effort and initiative useless. It is the cry of the hungry for the good things of the earth, a cry which the idle, the vicious and unfit join in. At the same time, it voices a discontent provoked by substantial grievances.

The fathers of the early church dreamed that it was possible to establish the blissful conditions which existed in the Garden of Eden. Every race has its traditional Eden, which is some time to be regained. Practical philosophy has dispelled the notion that mankind can progress under Edenic conditions, or that Edens are possible with natural conditions as they are.

But human society can order itself better than it does. It can arrange its affairs more beneficially and render conditions less hard for those on the firing line of life's battle. Without destroying the incentive to effort or abolishing the competition which sharpens intelligence and spurs enterprise and invention, it can make conditions easier for the frazzle. The social order in which charity is expressed by the story of Lazarus can be modified and improved. It is not possible or just to divide the savings of the industrious and frugal with the idle and shiftless, but it is possible to remove some of the handicaps which make competition unfair, unequal and unjust, and to have the fruits of common endeavor divided more equitably. All the unearned increment should not be given to a few when it is the creation of the mass. Socialism is at once a protest, an accusation and an appeal for help, for justice, for humanity. As a policy it is fanciful and impossible, but as the voice of real grievances it merits, yea demands, attention. That its cry for redress is coupled with a threat to destroy the existing social system should not deter society that its safety lies in doing its duty.

Domino has sent a "note" to Mexico but he'll make a long talk on his lecture tour.

Keep holes in mail cars for overseeing inspectors ought to be done in the interest of safety.

Domino is forming his own collection agency.

A SHADOW!

Extremes in Both.

There seems to be an affinity between the tango, bunny hug, turkey trot and the high cost of living.

This expression seems diametrical to the first thought. Nevertheless the opposite situation, on its face, is nearer than appears to persons in everyday life, and one extreme explains the other.

High cost of living is a fad as much as is the tango or any other accentuated dance. It is the evolution of a race that is seeking new excitement and new food. It is the cocktail of the commonplace with a little absinthe thrown in, and when we get away from its elusive influences we find that Old Father Progress has made victims of us all.

High cost of living is a high cost of ideals. High ideals of tango and hugs is an elevated notion of what one can find that isn't old in society. As society grasps at the things that society is daily trying to grasp, and on demand of its worshipers the price goes up.

Unconsciously we are slipping away from the simple life. Even in agricultural progress we have the farmer and his automobile. The clerk no longer worships the village beauty at the corner grocery, but he seeks a cafe and a joy ride.

The waltz of the past has been danced like a dance of death, and the glide of the future looks like paradise with an entrance fee attached.

We fashion our ways to the tune of a universal present rather than to the sober teachings of the past.

The world turns with the initiative it has set and we eat and dance to the strain of things and pay the price.

Some newspapers are composed of the stuff that dreams are made of.

Alas, poor Yorick! His bones still rest in Ninth street.

BISHOP CONDEEMS CAPITALISM

Bishop Franklin Spencer Spalding of Utah, at the recent convention of Episcopal clergymen and laymen in New York City, in the course of a speech favoring the condemnation of child labor, said:

This convention now on is a capitalistic convention. The men who attend it made their money, from profit, interest and rent. They care not how they do it as long as they do. Yet they are suffering untold tortures from poverty. They do not get the wealth. Where does it go?

It goes to the owners of the machinery. In this country 74 per cent of the population own but 4 per cent of the wealth. That tells you where it goes. In this country there are 2,000,000 children working at various industries. These little ones are slaving because of the profit motive.

I hate this system, my friends. I hate this system which gives to the greedy and takes from the weak. It is unchristian and ungodlike.

I hate this system and it must be ended. The church must awake and the church must ally herself with the movement for industrial democracy.

The wealth is in the hands of the rich. What do you know of that?

The poor ought to be thrifty. How often have I heard that! And yet every day delegates to this convention receive ten times the wages of one workman. How does that sound to you?

I am not pleading for a little more than a tenth for the worker. The laboring classes don't want charity. They want justice. It takes a man to learn things from a man that he doesn't know.

Capital owns the tools and the profits are the first consideration. That is due to his good judgment.

And many a man will admit that his success is due to his good judgment that to see a man get what he deserves. The office never seeks the man with the half the persistency of a creditor on the same minute.

AN APPRECIATION OF THE LATE J. C. FRANKS

In the death of Mr. Franks the state has lost a constructive genius of high rank.

Born in Ohio, of German parents, he came to California at the age of 15, and immediately began a career at the trade of blacksmithing. Located at Cullfax, he was on the great teaming highway between the valley and the mountain mines. Being also a wagon maker, his skill secured him a large trade, which laid the foundation of his future. Removing to Sonoma county, his versatility served him well in opening and making a large and profitable ranch. Later on he became a citizen of Monterey county, where he served several terms as sheriff, in the stormy times when that office required a fearless man. He faced every danger and duty of the place, and left order and obedience to law, and respect for the rights of property where he found them all lacking.

The record he made there caused his removal to San Francisco, where he became a citizen of that city. Here again his courage and quality were needed. In the federal courtroom, obeying the orders of the judge, he had an encounter with Judge Terry that had no equal in the history of our federal courts.

Leaving office, he saw great opportunities in the reclamation of tule lands in the California delta, and in time effected the reclamation of the Bethel, Bradford, Franks and Dos Rios tracts, creating fertile property out of the watery wilderness. His monument remains in the delta in the Franks tract, one of the most fertile of those numerous fine islands. He came finally to own and command a large tract, which he built up of many of the modern levees which have added millions to the productive land values of California. He was also the manager of the Frankland Land Company, the owner of thousands of cattle in that region and an important source of the beef supply of the state. His activities were widespread and his dredgers are seen on the rivers from Stockton channel to Colusa. In the midst of great plans and of stupendous work, he died, suddenly and untriumphant, leaving a constructive impulse in which his genius and spirit still live. His family have the sympathy of the state in their bereavement and the manhood of California has in his life the best and highest example to follow.

The record he made there caused his removal to San Francisco, where he became a citizen of that city. Here again his courage and quality were needed. In the federal courtroom, obeying the orders of the judge, he had an encounter with Judge Terry that had no equal in the history of our federal courts.

Leaving office, he saw great opportunities in the reclamation of tule lands in the California delta, and in time effected the reclamation of the Bethel, Bradford, Franks and Dos Rios tracts, creating fertile property out of the watery wilderness. His monument remains in the delta in the Franks tract, one of the most fertile of those numerous fine islands. He came finally to own and command a large tract, which he built up of many of the modern levees which have added millions to the productive land values of California. He was also the manager of the Frankland Land Company, the owner of thousands of cattle in that region and an important source of the beef supply of the state. His activities were widespread and his dredgers are seen on the rivers from Stockton channel to Colusa. In the midst of great plans and of stupendous work, he died, suddenly and untriumphant, leaving a constructive impulse in which his genius and spirit still live. His family have the sympathy of the state in their bereavement and the manhood of California has in his life the best and highest example to follow.

APPEAL OF FLYNN IS HEARD

Promised Sensational Testimony Not Introduced

Dismissed Police Corporal Fails to Controve Evidence

Three hours were consumed last night before the civil service board in hearing testimony as to why James been dismissed from the Oakland police department by Commissioner F. C. Turner. The hearing was the result of an appeal taken by Flynn from Turner's decision. There were still a dozen witnesses to be called by Flynn in his defense, besides character witnesses, when the session was adjourned after 11 o'clock last night, to be resumed next Saturday evening.

It was promised that there would be sensational testimony introduced so as to give the case a decided turn, and the outstanding facts as brought out at the hearing several weeks ago remained uncontested. In brief, the facts of the case indicated that Flynn had resented the action of Captain Thorwald Brown in ordering him to leave the bar, conducted in a shed during the annual police ball and within a short distance of the ballroom at Edora Park, that he had been insubordinate and he refused to obey the orders, that Brown had taken him roughly by the shoulder and pushed him out of the place, and that after some words between the two men, and a consultation between Captain Brown and Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew, Flynn had suspended Flynn. Subsequent to his suspension, Flynn is alleged to have made loud and insulting remarks to Agnew, his superior officer, in the presence of guests at the annual ball.

HEARING PRECEDENT.

As the appeal made by Flynn to the civil service board resulted last night in the first formal hearing of its kind in this city, there was considerable opening discussion and argument between Attorney Charles E. Snook, representing Flynn, and Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen, who conducted the prosecution.

Petersen, S. F. Burchett, president of the civil service board, cut the gordian tangle of technicalities, by ruling that the most expeditious way of getting at the facts with fairness to all, should be adopted, and Chief Petersen was instructed to put on his witnesses, showing the reasons for the dismissal.

The hearing was held in Judge George Samuels' courtroom as the crowd of witnesses and the interested lobby was too large to crowd into the civil service chambers. Flynn was represented by Attorneys Snook and Long. W. T. McSorley acted as stenographer to take a transcript of the proceedings.

The witnesses called by Chief Petersen were Lieutenant Bert L. Curtis of the northern district, Captain Thorwald Brown of Melrose, who was left in charge as senior captain when other officers left the annual ball shortly after 1 a. m. on the night of the police ball; Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew, Inspector R. A. Wallman, Patrolman Greenlee, Corporal Edward Conroy and Patrolman Crossman. The defense called Inspector James Drew, Patrolman Jordan and Harry West, a citizen.

ORDERED SALE STOPPED.

Curtis testified that he had detailed Flynn to watch the bar at 1:15 p. m. and saw that no more liquor was sold. Brown testified that he had gone to the bar after 1:30 and had found men in the place and had been glasses on the bar. He had found Flynn inside the place with some civilians and Flynn's brother, Joseph, behind the bar in charge. Brown asked Corporal Flynn what he was doing and was told that he was watching. Brown ordered him out, and when he refused to go, put him out forcibly.

"What are you shoving me around for?" Flynn is alleged to have said. "I've got a star here and I'm proud of it (showing his star). It was given me by an organization that will back me up in whatever I say or do. There's been two factions in this police department. You think you can — those improvement clubs out in Melrose, but you can't."

Brown had walked away under this abuse, he said, not wishing to occasion trouble on the night of the annual ball.

Subsequent testimony showed that Agnew had suspended Flynn that evening, and that Flynn had gone to the ballroom after being told to go home, and had made insulting remarks to Agnew. The witnesses for the defense were asked concerning these facts and disagreed in minor points with some of the witnesses against Flynn.

POLICE BUSY IN SEEKING MISSING

Many Disappearances of Children Reported by Distracted Parents.

Fearing that his parents planned to place him in a military school, Frederick V. Shaw, 16 years of age and a student in the Fremont high school, disappeared from his home, 5550 Boulevard way, yesterday, and his father, J. A. Shaw, has asked the police to assist in the search being made for the boy. It is believed that he has taken refuge with friends. His parents had talked of placing him in a military academy, as it was thought that the regular life and exercise would work an improvement in his health. It is thought the boy will be found in a few days.

Unable to speak a word of English and a stranger here, Gireto Giuseppe, eight years old, has disappeared, and his father, Pietro Giuseppe, 627 Fourth street, has asked the police to search for him. The boy left his home to see his father at the Free Market, and apparently lost his way in the streets.

The police have been asked also to search for Luisa Rafter, aged 9, who disappeared from his home, 5559 Fremont street, yesterday, and for Irving Ducret, 27 years of age, who came from his home, 503 Cesarina street, Alameda to find work in Oakland, and failed to return home.

POLICE CHIEF IN EXCITING ARREST

ever Who Deserter Victim Is Landed After Hot
Chase.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Chief of Police White made his second arrest last night. It was an exciting incident. It must well serve as the theme for a melodrama with the head of the San Francisco police department as the big hero of the chase. Beginning with a woman in distress, it ended with the arrest of a villain and the laurel wreath was duly placed on the brow of Chief White was going home to his residence with Patrolman Meely at the wheel. He was speeding at a good clip, but was not smashing any ordinances. On Bush street between Buchanan and Webster streets, a woman was seen lying near the curb. The chief ordered his car halted. He jumped down and found Mrs. Alice Horne, of 2035 Bush street, in a dazed condition.

A bystander informed him that a buggy had run her down, and dashed in an attempt to give her first aid. Without a word White jumped back in his machine, which was turned around, as the crash took place, they saw the fugitives lashing their horse, several blocks ahead. The chase led to Hyde street where the men abandoned their vehicle and dived through a vacant lot. Drawing his revolver the chief aided by Meely called upon the fugitives to halt. They refused to do so, and several shots were fired in the air. Finally the men separated and the pursuing officers succeeded in catching one of them who gave the name of John Badgup; he was placed in detaine.

He refused to give the name of his companion. It developed that the buggy containing two boxes of butter had been stolen earlier in the evening from the corner of Jones and Bush street. They had been left at the curb by Harry Metzger, driver for Sperry-Feltas and Company, provision merchants.

Mrs. Horne was removed to the Central Emergency hospital, but was found to be only slightly hurt. She had been crossing the street, when the buggy hit her, and rendered her unconscious for a short time.

Twenty-Two Dollars
Stolen From Min

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—An official count of all the silver dollars in the San Francisco mint has revealed that twenty-two dollars were stolen, probably about $50,000, according to a report made today to Director of the Mint George E. Roberts.

Several bags of one of the bags of silver in the mint was found to contain iron washers. Every bag was opened and all the money was counted.

ROLPH VETOES CIVIC CENTER OPERA HOUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Mayor Rolph today vetoed the ordinance providing for the erection in the civic center of a municipal opera house towards which citizens have already subscribed $550,000. The mayor is not opposed to municipal opera, but he believes the ordinance contains two objectionable clauses. He does not think the trustees should be, as provided, a self-perpetuating body, and he is against a clause allowing stockholders preferential rights to boxes and choice seats, with power to bequeath their rights to their heirs and assigns. In a municipal enterprise the mayor disfavors such a discrimination.

STREET WORK STANDARD SHOWN IN STATEMENT

Superintendent W. J. Baccus Files Report for Year With Commissioners; Modern Methods Applied

Giving in detail an insight into the workings of the great department, and the achievements in this division of the city government in the past year, the annual report of Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus was filed with the city council today. In his treatment, the report shows the progress which has been made in modern methods of street construction and maintenance. The report records the thoroughness of the department's system and details in popular as well as technical description the vast amount of labor which has been put upon the public thoroughfares during the year 1912-13. Commissioner Baccus in submitting his report said that the department had also endeavored to give to the city council an idea of the workings of the department, the progress made in organization and the results obtained during his first term of office under the new charter.

GENERAL SUMMARY.
Supplementing the formal report, a general summary of the work accomplished is as follows:

A complete reorganization of the department along business lines, reducing the supervising force by nine men, each of whom drew $100 per month or better.

Fixing of responsibility in the clerical and supervising force, eliminating the "passing of the buck" where mistakes have been made and giving opportunity for acknowledgement of good work, thus securing efficiency.

A complete system of bookkeeping, keeping in detail both cash and statistical accounts, enabling the commissioner and supervisor to keep complete check on different kinds of work, and enabling the supervising force to see where they may accomplish more work for the same money by proper management.

Systematizing and rearrangement of the work and records of the office—simplifying of indexing and filing system—and placing of complete check on all inspections. Work in office reduced about one-third and more than double the volume of work handled by less force of office employees. Work so simplified that same can be kept up to date and checked in such a way that mistakes are reduced to a minimum.

year 1912-13, the following street work was done:

Permanent pavement (Standard Asphalt) 436 miles completed at a cost of $373,055.04, practically four miles more under construction that will be completed within the next 60 days. Oil-macadam (including grasing, curbing, gutters, etc., total miles of asphaltic sewers—92.182 miles at a cost of $533,505.01.

CULVERT, STORM SEWERS.

Culverts, storm-sewers, etc.—2,183 miles at a cost of $46,026.19.

sidewalks—24,642 miles at a cost of $85,567.42. Miscellaneous Improvements at a cost of $5,575.52. Total improvements during the year of 1912-13, $1,596,616.12 with much work under contract that will be completed this season.

The department has been able to secure a better class of work and better control of work in the new subdivision subdivisions. This means much to the city as a saving, when over run for maintenance.

It is the policy of the department to allow only Standard Asphalt or the best oil-macadam streets to be constructed.

The results obtained have been very satisfactory to the property owners and the department.

On account of the increased automobile traffic it has been necessary to adopt a new specification of straight two-course work on some of the heavy traffic streets that do not justify the standard pavement.

During the year 1912-13 the campaign of surface oiling of water-bound macadam streets was continued.

About 19 miles were surface oiled at a cost of about $30,000 to the city.

A saving of the city in sprinkling and in cleaning and repair will amount to at least $30,000 besides giving the people a better street.

DIVISIONS OF DEPARTMENT.

The department was reorganized during the year 1911-12, the first time the basic organization was adopted on March 15, 1912, but the full effect did not accrue until the year 1912-13.

The department is divided into the Department of Streets and the Engineering Department, both under the control of the Commissioner of Streets and ex-officio city engineer.

The Department of Streets is again divided into the Clerical Division, Construction Division and Maintenance Division.

The Clerical Division is under the control of the Chief Assessment Clerk and the Chief Clerk.

The Chief Assessment Clerk is held responsible for all street proceedings in this department, the making of street assessments and the placing of the assessments on the books for collection. He is also responsible for all street opening proceedings and assessments and acts as one of the Street Ordering Commissioners with cut additional compensation.

The Chief Clerk is responsible for the general conduct of the office, for collection of all fees and assessments and for the clerical and bookkeeping work of the department.

MAGNITUDE OF WORK.

When looked at from the business man's viewpoint, the magnitude of the business conducted by the department can be appreciated.

It will be necessary that I should have not only the loyal support of the different employees, but that these men have the executive ability and honesty of purpose to carry on the work successfully. It is necessary that where men have shown initiative and even ordinary good results that these should be recognized in a substantial manner, not only to encourage them to continued good efforts, but as an example to others. If this policy is established in all departments, it will soon build up the city service to the highest standard.

"While the progress made and work accomplished in 1912-13 over 1911-12 has been more than satisfactory, I feel that with the experience of these two years and the plans for the future, we will be able to show still greater results for the year 1913-14. During the first two years of my administration we turned most of our efforts toward arousing the enthusiasm and building up the efficiency of the executive and clerical forces, and we are now putting into effect the plan for building up the efficiency of the mechanical and labor forces.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

"The Construction Division is under the direct charge of the Assistant Superintendent of Streets, who has supervision of all new street and sewer work.

The Maintenance Division is under the direct control of the Deputy Superintendent of Streets and Assistant Deputy Superintendent of Streets, who are responsible for all maintenance and repair work and the equipment for carrying on the work.

The Engineering Department is under the Deputy City Engineer and not only handles the engineering work for the Department of Streets, but also for the Harbor Department and all other departments of the city.

"In this organization the object and intent was that the Commissioner and Superintendent fix responsibility on certain heads of divisions, these in turn placing responsibility on the men under them.

RESULTS SATISFACTORY.

"The results obtained have been very satisfactory, as all friction has been eliminated, and a friendly rivalry has been stimulated that puts enthusiasm into the entire force. Both Mr. Brown and myself hold strictly to this rule of 'fixed responsibility,' and never pass out an order excepting through the proper head. It not only eliminates friction and confusion, but gives us the means of checking efficiency and of recognizing ability and good service."

Pistol in Muff Is Cause of Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Nellie Anderson has been carrying a revolver in her muff for a long time.

What she intended to do with the weapon is her little secret, but Patrick Walsh, a saloonman, became frightened at the nearness of firearms when she was about.

He whispered the fact that she had a gun to Detective Tom Conlon and the latter promptly arrested her for carrying concealed weapons. Today she appeared before Judge Deasy. Walsh was not there. She said she did not know why he should become frightened, as he knew that she had a gun for a long time. The court suspended sentence allowing her to go, providing that she desisted from walking around with a pistol any more.

SALVATION ARMY TO WORK FOR THE POOR

So rousing donations for the work being done among the poor during the Christmas season.

Army will visit the Oakland schools with a few visits, asking pupils to contribute any articles they may be able to spare.

By ruling of the board of education any amount given by the Army officers, money shall not be asked for. The matter was brought before the board this week, the officers of the organization explaining that it is a yearly custom. After hearing that money would not be asked Director Harry Boyle seconded their request and has promised to aid in the work.

KATHRYN KIDDER
DRAWING CROWDS

Orpheum Star Holds Good on Program That Is a Winner.

Kathryn Kidder is drawing the crowds to the Oakland Orpheum this week and pleasing them immensely with her fine art in the comedy drama of "The Washwoman Duchess," in which she again appears in the role of Madame Sans Gêne.

It is a beautiful bit of play acting and well worthy of all the attention and applause theatergoers in Oakland accord it.

A real novelty is found on the bill this week in the Chung Hwa Comedy Four, a quartet of singing Chinese and comedians.

CITY WILL REFUND
SURPLUS IN FUNDSProperty Owners in Alameda to Receive Part of Taxes for Electroliers.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—Preparations are being made to distribute the surplus in electrolier districts Nos. 1, 2 and 3. The returning of the surplus was referred to the finance committee of the city council and that body has ordered the figures prepared. Districts Nos. 4 and 5 are now being paid, but the refund will

Under the decision of City Attorney Samuel Poorman Jr., the refund will not take place until two years after payment has been made. This period has expired in districts Nos. 1, 2 and 3, but not in districts 4, 5 and 6. The city attorney held that the protests filed in these districts were not worth the paper they were written on, but he advised that the two-year limit should be allowed to expire before action is taken.

ATTORNEY'S OPINION.

The city attorney's opinion is as follows:

To the Honorable, the Council of the City of Alameda, Dear Sir: In reply to your request for my opinion in writing "as to the life of the protest filed by various persons in the matter of the payment of electrolier assessments," I have to submit the following:

I assume that your inquiry has reference to the period within which action (if permitted at all) to recover the amount of the assessment paid under protest, must be brought. By Section 5 of the Act of March 21, 1905, Stats. 1905, page 584, pursuant to which the electrolier assessments were levied, it is provided that "the validity of an assessment levied under this act shall not be contested in any action or proceeding, unless the same is commenced within thirty days after the time said assessment is levied." No provision whatever is made in said act for a payment under protest of the special assessment levied, or for any recovery of an assessment once paid.

My opinion is not required upon the much mooted question as to what constitutes a voluntary, as distinguished from an involuntary, payment of an assessment. In this connection, upon the authority of Easterbrook vs. San Francisco, 44 Pac. 2d, 209, 210, and Paris vs. San Francisco, 120 Cal. 120, it is my opinion that the city is maintainable for the recovery of special assessments paid under protest. There is, however, authority in which a contrary view may be found, Gill vs. City.

Assuming, therefore, that such an action be maintainable, the same would be barred within two years from the date of payment (C. C. P. 238).

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL POORMAN JR.,
City Attorney.COMMENCE WORK ON STREET IMPROVEMENTS

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—City Engineer J. J. Jesup is preparing plans and specifications for the paving of Center street, from Mills street to Grove, and Grove street from Alton way to Woodley. Bills are to be advertised for by the city council as soon as the plans are perfected.

This is the beginning of the extensive system of street improvement in this city which has been planned by E. Q. Turner, Commissioner of Public Works, and which he recently submitted to the city council. After these improvements the laying of full width sidewalks along Center street, where the present sidewalks are in a very dilapidated state.

It is intended by the city council to carry most of the plans which Turner has submitted into effect before the members of the present body go out of office. The whole scheme has been submitted in such shape that it may be finished entirely by the time of the Exposition, when it is expected to have made of Berkeley one of the best paved cities in the West.

Plans for better electric lighting of the streets in the business section have also been submitted, and on this phase of the situation Commissioner Turner's plans will also receive attention from the council.

Panama Canal May Not Create Prosperity, However, Says Professor.

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 28.—"The inhabitants of the West Coast of South America are likely to be disappointed in their belief that an immense prosperity is about to come to their shores," said Professor Hiriam Bingham of Yale, in speaking of the results to follow the opening of the Panama Canal, at the Clark University conference on Latin America today.

"At the same time," he continued, "their ardent optimism undoubtedly will arouse them to great economic efforts. The psychological effect on the business men of the United States is likely to lead them to believe that the canal has opened to them a new market in regions heretofore inaccessible. If the economic and geographic foundations exist for such an extension of trade, then the future has in store for us many wonderfully attractive features. If, on the other hand, sufficient broad bases do not exist, a crash is bound to follow."

The more cautious the American manufacturer and capitalist is, the less he will lose in time and money and the less the West Coast will lose in reputation and good prospects. The opportunities on the West Coast are chiefly concerned with the development of mines of copper, tin and nitrate, and as compared with the great riches existing in the Andes, the country of South America.

TRADE EXCURSION SOUTH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Plans for a South American trade excursion under the auspices of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association was made public today, after a conference between Director-General John Barrett of the Pan-American Union and Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, vice-president of the association. One hundred and twenty more representative business men and professional men from Chicago and the Central West plan to sail from New York February 6 on a 64-day cruise down the East Coast of South America to Buenos Ayres and return.

The itinerary will include stops at Barbados, West Indies, Para, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro and Santos, Brazil; Montevideo, Uruguay, and finally Buenos Ayres, Argentina. In the latter place there will be a stay of 15 days, with visits to Santiago and Valparaiso, Chile, before concluding the return journey.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, George A. John, T. McCutcheon and Samuel Parker, the railroad president, are expected to accompany the party.

WHITE DEER IS PREY OF HUNTER IN EAST

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Nov. 28.—A beautiful white deer was killed on Mount Washington by Charles R. Franklin of Pittsfield. It was a doe and weighed 155 pounds. Franklin saw two white deer, but the state law allowed him to kill but one. In Mohegan Indian jaws in Pittsfield white deer accounted at Onota lake. A French officer, sent from Montreal to incite Indians against the English, killed one of the sacred deer and tried to escape with the head to Montreal but the Indians overtook and killed him.

STAGE AND PEOPLE ON

MILLER'S RAINBOW BRIGHT PROMISE

Stars Will Shine Through It Tonight; Pantages Has Good Bill.

HENRY MILLER opens his engagement in "The Rainbow" at the Macdonough tonight with his New York Liberty Theater Company and handsome mountings which formed a part of his metropolitan run.

Henry Miller has been coming to the Coast for a dozen or more years, and indeed, among the big stars he has been credited with being one of the modern pioneers, for his success in San Francisco with his various summer stock venture & Erlanger, Charles Frohman, Heasco and other big producers to see the possibilities and profits in the Western tour. During the period of his stardom, his appearances in this city have been attended by the presentation of half a dozen or more roles of distinction, each widely different from the other.

Miller will be seen for three nights and a Saturday matinee.

"A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD."

"A Girl of the Underworld" is a play in more ways than one. It is intensely interesting, full of strong situations, yet there is a gaudy, gay, gay running through the piece, even to the very end. The characters never offend, or create a feeling of being overdrawn or lacking in the touch of nature so essential to real dramatic worth. The girl in the play has a counterpart in every town and village throughout this broad land. The principal incidents are taken from real life and ring true. This remarkable play will have its first presentation at the Macdonough Theater Sunday, November 28, afternoon and evening.

ANNA HELD.

A gauge of the quality of the "Anna Held All-Star Variete Jubilee," which comes to the Macdonough for four nights commencing November 25, daily matines, may be had when it is known that George Beban and his surpassing little company of actors in "The Sign of the Rose" is one of the six star acts in support of the beautiful Parisienne.

This little dramatic sketch has for years been the delight and the wonder of the best critics of America, and so appealing has it been and so compellingly assertive as a genuine "play" that many efforts have been made to extend it into a whole evening's performance. These efforts have failed and so "The Sign of the Rose" remains a genre gem, a bit of short and sweet dramatic perfection.

"THE COMMON LAW."

That astute manager, A. H. Woods, whose theatrical successes are legion, has struck another winner in Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," a dramatization of which was presented last season by Mr. Woods in such a manner as to leave no doubt regarding its future as an entertainment well calculated to divert the attention of that class of theatrical goers who give serious thought to something substantial as against the multifarious offerings in the lighter vein of stage presentations.

"The Common Law" is handled in a bearing here at the Macdonough November 29 to December 4, and already there seems to be a widespread interest in witnessing the characters of Mr. Chambers' book in the flesh and blood.

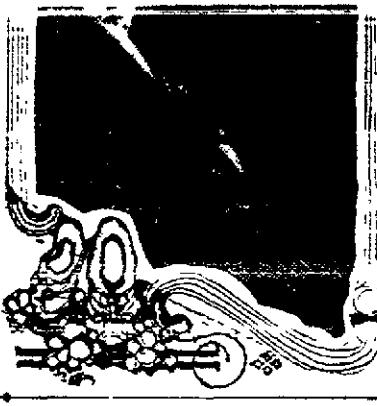

PANTAGES

The ladies in the audience at the Oaklawn Pantages this week are enjoying hearty laughter at themselves, for Jimmie Rose of Cunningham and Rose, blackface comedians, wears a burlesque dress, typifying man's idea of the latest craze in silk shirts, arket garters, arket watches and all the other fads and follies of the modern, modish feminine costume.

Of course, Jimmie Rose is spared no pains to look like a woman in costume and it has turned out to be the wildest, weirdest, most outrageous costume ever seen upon a local stage, and evokes shrieks of hilarious laughter from the men as well as the ladies in the audience.

A sight of Rose's dress is alone worth the price of admission.

The vulgar offends are raving their lunatics this week at the Pantages with HENRY MILLER.

"A Winning Miss," the footloose pictures and Keit and DeMont, all numbers dealing with the college spirit.

In "A Winning Miss," Boyle Woolfolk has given us a real miniature musical comedy, with its tuneful music, pretty girls and clever principals. The footloose pictures could not fail to be exhilarating for the exciting events of November 3 at Palo Alto are photographically reproduced, while Keit and DeMont as athletic college comedians accomplish amazing acrobatic stunts, while keeping up a running fire of absurd comment.

Other pleasing acts are the Collette Trio of musicians, Provost, whistling ventriloquist and mimic; Gordon and Day, comedy bicyclists, and action pictures.

For the coming week the headliners will be Alpine, the Hawaiian Serenaders and "Golden Dreams," a gorgeous scenic extravaganza and transformation.

SPLIVALO WILL IGNORES SON "FOR GOOD REASON"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—In the will of R. C. Spivalo, which was filed with the county clerk for probate yesterday, the testator says:

"I purpose to make no provision for my son, Adriano W. Spivalo, for very good reasons." The reasons, however, are not stated.

Most of the estate, the chief asset of Spivalo is a controlling interest in the firm of C. R. Spivalo & Company, with offices at 256 Bryant street, goes to the defendant's son Raymond. The last named gets not only the stock of the company held by his father at the time of death, but is the residuary legatee. The estate has not yet been appraised, but is expected to net the heirs a good size fortune.

Laura Spivalo, the widow, residing at 2756 Vallejo street, is left the family home, with all it contains, together with a number of jewels and several pieces of valuable city real estate. Other immediate members of the family with the one exception already named, are also provided for.

PRESTON IS URGED TO TAKE McNAB'S PLACE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—State Senator A. A. Campbell of San Luis Obispo is definitely out of the race to succeed John McNab as United States Attorney at San Francisco. Assistant Attorney General for the Assemblyman John W. Preston of Los Angeles.

Campbell's appointment would create a disturbance in the 44th Congress.

The department announced that it had eliminated patronage considerations in making the appointment.

The objection raised against Preston that he fled the field of Democracy by supporting Kent against Zurnwall in the last congressional campaign.

POETRY AND ITS PLACE IN DRAMA

Dr. Anspacher Defines the Art of Pen and Art of the Stage.

Eugenie marriage or intellectual marriage, which will benefit the world most? The so-called Eugenie marriage, supposed to create better beings, has come to the front, but say sociologists, the intellectual marriage, the mating of perfect minds rather than perfect bodies, produces something more tangible, an ideal perhaps, some work of literature in which mutual inspiration rises to its highest point of efficiency.

Edmund Anspacher, poet, playwright, lecturer and critic, and Kathryn Kildare, the noted actress, are now appearing in the play "The Washerwoman Duchess," founded on an episode in the life of Mrs. Sans Gene. Anspacher, a creative genius, and his wife, an expressive genius, have so mingled that he is today a creative artist who can express, she an expressive artist who can create, and, together, critics declare that they have done much to elevate the POETRY AND DRAMA.

"What place is there in the drama?" Anspacher was asked yesterday, as he was making up for his "Napoleon" in an Orpheum dressing-room.

"Before I answer that question," said the writer, "I would like to redefine poetry. Poetry is not alone the rhyme and rhythm. This is at present 'abuse' on the stage. There is another poetry. With Bjornson read Ibsen's 'Peer Gynt,' he said it was poetry. Ibsen answered, 'If my book is not poetry, the conception of modern poetry in the theater shall be made to conform to my book.'

"There is poetry in the rhythm of prose. The old idea of beauty in sound is passing. Dramatic poetry needs virility. In order for the drama to succeed it must be first drama, then poetry. Poetry is but an adornment of drama. The true poet is he who gives an idea its most perfect utterance, and the difficulty in modern poetical drama is that it is written too often by people who try to scorn the conditions of the theater. They call it 'literary drama.' All drama is literary—or it is not drama. People talk drama acts. Shakespeare never forgot this. All drama resolves itself down to a conflict."

"Of course, it must not be an action drama, but a dramatic action. Poetry makes moving pictures. They have taken the place of the old melodrama, where the story is told in the flying train, but the story meant nothing."

DEMOCRACY OF ART.

"The democracy of art is the theater, painting, sculpture, poetry—these are aristocratic arts, the art of drama is the art voted upon by those who cast their votes in the ballot box."

"Democracy in a play is often spoken of. I would not call it that. Take a play like 'The Lure' or 'The Traffic.' The actors excuse themselves by saying that they are life. Still, why produce them? I say, It is life, but can imagination give it art? I am afraid not. Ibsen's 'Ghosts' is impossible, but a great drama. It deals with a problem—the other with merely a condition."

Anspacher, a graduate of Columbia University and New York College, lawyer, metaphysician and philosopher, has been on the stage only a short time, for years being a famed lecturer and writer. He is on the permanent staff of the League of Political Education and author of many dramatic and lyric poems. He is now working on a new play.

TALKS POETRY—UNCONSCIOUSLY.

Mrs. Kidder refused to talk yesterday, as I asked her how much I like "Oakland," she declared, "You are a wonderful city, at I really want to compliment you, but I don't know if I can do it."

"I purpose to make no provision for my son, Adriano W. Spivalo, for very good reasons." The reasons, however, are not stated.

Most of the estate, the chief asset of Spivalo is a controlling interest in the firm of C. R. Spivalo & Company, with offices at 256 Bryant street, goes to the defendant's son Raymond. The last named gets not only the stock of the company held by his father at the time of death, but is the residuary legatee. PSYCHOLOGY SECRET OF GOOD SALESMEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Hypnotism is no mystery to Professor Muensterberg of Harvard. Muensterberg talked about "applying psychology to business" before students of the Edison company's commercial school yesterday afternoon.

He defined good salesmanship as "psychological cleverness."

He said he knew of a factory that instructed its men, when they delivered articles from house to house, for inspection, to draw a pencil and pen from the pocket and stand facing the housewife. "The immediate purpose," Muensterberg continued, "is not to have salesmen ready to write down the order, but to leave neither of his hands free into which a woman could return the article and say, 'I don't want it. That's psychological cleverness.'

The El Portal-Yosemite road has been put into first-class shape.

TAKE TURKEY TROT PARADE.

CHEROKEE, Tex., Nov. 29.—Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas headed the annual "turkey trot" parade here yesterday. Five thousand live turkeys stalked through the streets in droves of a few hundred each behind trained leaders. One giant bronze turkey gobbler drew a half dozen passenger and child passengers. Allegorical and industrial floats appeared in the parade.

His will cuts off three nephews and gives a life interest in the estate to his widow, upon whose death the fortune goes to the society.

MISS MABEL ISH, CHARMING BRIDE-ELECT, WHO IS TO BE THE OCCASION FOR CONSIDERABLE SOCIAL ATTENTION.

—McCullagh Photo.

WITHIN a setting of pink rose buds and delicate ferns in the beautiful rose drawing-room of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Cebert Capwell, in Linda Vista, Fern, a this afternoon was Mabel Ish presented into society by her mother. Several hundred guests called during the appointed hours. The beautiful home was abloom with the loveliest of blossoms of the season. The large reception hall was basked with bluebells and varied colored chrysanthemums. In the drawing room where the hostess and her debuting daughter, with their assistants, greeted the beautifully dressed women who paid their respects to the younger daughter of the house the delicate scent of roses prevailed.

Pink was the prevailing color scheme used in the decoration of the home. Upstairs in the patio and balconies, where the orchestra played, screened behind a setting of palm and ferns, small tables were placed, appointed with pink shaded candelabra and laden with dainty refreshments.

In the library and dining-hall golden chrysanthemums were used, while the same delicate tones of pink were complemented by the arrangement of the numerous small tables that were placed about the dining-hall.

Mrs. Capwell received her guests in an exquisite gown of green and silver brocade, over which was worn a delicate tunic of black chiffon with rhinestone trimming.

Miss Phyllis Capwell's delicate beauty was set off by a dainty costume of pink and white. The foundation of the gown was of pink charmeuse, the upper part being made of white satin charmeuse with a pearl net over tulle fashioned after the new "per top" effect now so much in vogue for young girls. To complete the costume Miss Phyllis carried a shower of white tulles, lilies of the valley and pink Maryland rose buds.

Miss Dorothy Capwell wore a beautiful costume of pink and white brocade garnished with silver lace which formed the bodice and was draped upon the skirt. Her shower was of pink rose buds, lilies of the valley and tulles.

Among those who assisted the hostess in receiving were included many of the younger set as well as their mothers, among whom were:

Mrs. T. C. Coogan Mrs. Helen Coogan
Mrs. Frank Mott Mrs. Phyllis Lovell
Mrs. William E. Miss Marguerite Black
Mrs. Herbert Hamlin Mrs. Helen Dowse
Mrs. George R. Mrs. Margaret Robb
Mrs. Harry Farr Mrs. Helen Newell
Mrs. John E. Conner Mrs. Helen Page
Mrs. Thomas Watson Mrs. Gertrude Burns
Mrs. John E. Conner Mrs. Gertrude Burns
Mrs. Harry Marwell Miss Margaret Morble
Mrs. Frank Jackson

Among the beautiful gowns worn this afternoon were the following:

Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing—Black charmeuse, heavily embroidered with bodice and garniture of rose point lace, with a rose of chiffon and silver completing the costume.

Mrs. Frank Jackson—Rose pink crepe de chine with an overdress of shadow lace trimmed in calico rose buds of pink.

Mrs. Timothy C. Coogan—Rose charmeuse foundation with an over lace of blue and gold brocade, prettily draped and embroidery of rose point lace.

Mrs. Dorothy Capwell—Black velvet gown with bodice of white lace embroidered.

JAILED FOR IMMORAL CONDUCT

Dr. G. W. Leek Raided at Midnight by Jealous
Wife

Alleged Affinity Aids the Dentist in Obtaining Bondsman

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—After spending two fitful nervous hours in the city prison, Dr. George W. Leek, prominent dentist and clubman, obtained his release on bail shortly before 3 o'clock this morning after his wife had brought about his arrest by a raid on his private apartment. After some quiet detective work, Mrs. Jessie V. Leek swooped down on her husband at midnight, surprised him in company with his alleged affinity, and both were carted off to jail. It was very dramatic and exciting and Mrs. Leek, who almost engaged in a half-pulling match with Miss Gladys Wright, whom she named as correspondent in her original divorce action, was much upset and unstrung after the ordeal was over.

Both PEACEFULLY ASLEEP. Dr. Leek was peacefully asleep in his apartment at 945 Post street. Miss Wright was there, too. The hour being an unseemly one, there were few persons about in the fashionable apartment house. Attorneys Robert Duke, counsel for Mrs. Leek, and Detectives Minehan and King, armed with a warrant charging the dentist with immoral conduct, walked down the corridor. Minehan rapped for admittance. It was refused. Finally the door was broken down and the four raiders rushed in. Dr. Leek, pajama-clad, was in the living room, but Mrs. Leek did not hesitate. She rushed into the sleeping apartments beyond and soon a shrill cry was heard and a struggle between two female women was only averted by prompt interference on the part of the officers. Miss Wright was also in her night apparel and the arresting party withdrew long enough for the surprised pair to put on their street attire. They were then whisked off to police headquarters. Miss Wright did not tarry, as there was no complaint against her. Mrs. Leek, however, went in search of her husband, and by the dentist, who telephoned from the city prison, she was finally able to procure the necessary $500, and Dr. Leek returned to his abode for the balance of the night.

Both CHARGED AFFINITIES. This forms the most recent chapter in the sensational divorce litigation of Dr. Leek. Charges and counter-charges of affinities have been made on both sides. A music teacher was drawn into the controversy by Dr. Leek and Miss Wright was singled out for mention by Mrs. Leek. Such a tangled skein of evidence was presented to the Superior Court that a divorce was denied. Mrs. Leek and her attorney, Robert Duke, were determined, however, to obtain proof of the dentist's alleged relations with Miss Wright. Accordingly they swore out a writ of habeas corpus charging him with a misdemeanor statutory offense. It was with the aid of this that they were able to obtain the assistance of the local detectives.

Detective-Sergeant Minehan, who led the raid on Dr. Leek's apartment, declares that everything was prepared for Miss Wright to make her escape if necessary.

HAD SEPARATE APARTMENT. "The Wright woman has another apartment in the same building," explained Minehan. "I was at the room where I had a key for the door of Dr. Leek's apartment. I opened it and found it was chained from the inside. I sent Detective King to telephone to Miss Wright that she was wanted downstairs. He did so and I heard Dr. Leek tell her she had better leave, as then the room was unfastened and we found our way in. I seized Dr. Leek, but he fought like a tiger and took me five minutes to subdue him. Miss Wright had taken refuge in the inner apartment, where she was found by Detective King. We told Dr. Leek to get ready and go

Fermented Mare's Milk, Intoxicant of the Ancients

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Fermented mare's milk and not John Barleycorn was the foe prohibitionists had to fight in the days of the ancients. W. W. Farley, state commissioner of Excise, declared today in an address here on "Excise legislation."

"The most ancient of all intoxicating beverages was made from mare's milk, set aside and allowed to ferment," he said. "This drink was called 'Koumots.' The drink still is the favorite tipple of the Tartar."

Farley declared the solution of the liquor question lay in the public being taught to use a non-intoxicating substitute for beer. Statutes can regulate, but not cure the evil.

Carlisle Indians Not Coming

Lovers of the American style of football will be disappointed to learn that the Carlisle Indians have abandoned their proposed tour of the west this winter. The famous team has arranged games with Seattle, Multnomah, Spokane, and could have secured games in this city, and in Los Angeles.

The Oakland Originals were looking forward to a clash with the Redmen, but now are devoting their efforts to securing a game with a team representing Stanford University.

The Sox and Giants are now on the bounding blows, having sailed yesterday from Vancouver. Wet grounds will have no effect on the poker schedule.

AS THE POET SAYETH:

"Man wants but little here below." That bard was sure bereft. He never was a sporting Ed. For if he was, he would have said, "While dodging moochies as he fed, There's no more tickets left!"

In order that there may be no mis- understanding, we will add that the Sox and the Giants were quite an error. Please accept apology.

BE REASONABLE.

BUCK" O'BRIEN NOW EXPLAINING

BOSTON, Nov. 20-Buck O'Brien, for Red Sox pitcher, 7-0 was sold to the Chicago White Sox in the middle of the past season and later let out by them to the Oakland, California team, strengthening the team that no one returns from baseball. He is still with the Sox.

"This stuff they are handing out about me in the papers is not true. As far as I know now, I will return to Oakland next spring. Manager Devlin and I had a little dispute over including my transposition east in the contract, but that was easily ironed out."

Following the wedding last evening Mr. O'Brien entertained at a wedding dinner at a downtown cafe. Oakland. Three friends at the hotel, a Kililay of Seattle, a friend of Mrs. Maude Cattell, a friend of the Claremont contingent in the first night.

KILLILAY IS SNARED BY DAN CUPID

John Killilay, the handsome twirler of the Oaks, became a benedick yesterday evening when he claimed the heart and hand of Miss Buelah Pearl Kickashaw of Fresno, who first saw her husband when he was pitching on the local team. The two are to be married in the home of Mrs. Maude Cattell, a friend of the Claremont contingent, the first night.

Mr. W. H. Givins and Mrs. Lawrence Scott played their usual close game, the victory going to Mrs. Scott, one up. Miss C. B. Wingate is the sole remaining hope of the Claremont contingent in the first night.

CLAREMONT HOPE IS IS MRS. WINGATE

The first round of match play amongst women on the Burlingame links was completed yesterday in three flights. By defeating Mrs. C. F. Ford of the Claremont club, Miss Lee Gilvin proved that she is indeed a good player. She is to play to Miss Edith Cheshire, who is to be married to Mrs. J. R. Clark and Mrs. Walter S. Martin, director of the treasury, defaulted to Mrs. A. R. Pommer, being unable to play because of a weak ankle. Mrs. T. S. Baker defeated Miss Jane Howland eight up and six to go. Mrs. Agnesine Taylor defeated her sister, Mrs. C. B. Wingate.

MASSACRE, PLAN OF NAVAJOS

400 Renegades, Fortified; Sing War Songs and Dance

FARMINGTON, N. M., Nov. 20.—Through the darkness of last night and to dawn today the 400 renegade Navajo Indians, fortified and encamped on Beautiful Mountain, 36 miles southwest of the city here, while lone sentries stood watch at the many signal fires which fringed the northeastern side of the mesa. And at Shiprock extra precautions had been taken against the surprise of a night attack by the less than half-armed followers of Chief Bo Shu She, who have been brought to a state of high frenzy by their medicine men.

With the first rays of daylight, Agent Shultz and his Indian police, still faithful to the white man, who would take from them their ancient tribal rights of many squares, no news was had of the success or failure met by the renegade savages, who late yesterday set out from Beautiful Mountain to distant points of the reservation in an attempt to incite other Indians yet apparently friendly to open war and revolt.

SETTLERS FRIGHTENED.

Though with the coming of daylight the opportunity for a surprise attack was lessened, Agent Shultz and Major McLaughlin, inspector of the agency, fear that the passing of another 12 hours will but see the return of the renegades increase, and so make greater the danger of an attack tonight. Traders and settlers on the reservation, just now learning of the tense situation, have become thoroughly frightened and appealed to Agent Shultz for protection for themselves and families.

The other Indians of the reservation, more than 3000, stalk about unmercifully and none can tell where their sympathies rest.

FEAR GENERAL UPRISING.

Apprehension of a general uprising before the troops can arrive from Nebraska is at the heart of the settlers, who fear the quiet unconcern of the reservation Indians may be but a cloak to their real proclivity. It is upon the coming of the agency and the settlers' basic hopes that the bloodshed may be averted. There are many at the settlement, however, who express anxiety over the reception which the Indians will give the troops. They fear that the renegades will have been as exercised by their medicine men and the almost savage chief, Bo Shu She, that they will offer armed resistance to the troops, even though greatly outnumbered by them.

THIRST FOR FIGHT.

That the Indians will use force on occasion was evidenced by their attack on the agency when they released the 31 tribemen who had been arrested on Federal warrants charging horse stealing, assault and brawling, while more than 100 sympathizers stood on the bank of the Little San Juan river, ready to aid them in their attack should the agency officials show any intention of offering forcible resistance to their fellows.

The incipient uprising has today reached greater proportions than has an Indian outbreak in this section of the country for many years and agency officials do not deny that it will take much patience on the part of General Scott to placate the Indians, who seem thirsting for fight.

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT AT HOME FOR BLIND

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—The famous Lockwood School Band, under the direction of the principal, C. A. Greenman, has consented to give a concert to the blind at the State School in Berkeley next Saturday evening. The concert will be accompanied by an illustrated talk on "The Gem of the East Indies" by Alexander Russell of San Francisco.

The combination of the band concert and the stereopticon lecture will afford a scientific entertainment for the afflicted children at the Berkeley institution. One of the professors will interpret to the deaf in the sign language the stories and descriptions given by Russell of his travels in Java.

The entertainment will take place in the spacious assembly hall at the school, and the public is invited to be present by the principal, L. E. Milligan. No admission fee will be charged.

KANSAS PROGRESSIVES TO NAME OWN TICKET

TOPPERA, Kas., Nov. 20.—The progressive party in Kansas will put out a state ticket in the 1914 campaign independent of all other parties according to statements of leaders who are here to attend a state-wide Progressive conference today.

VINOL POPULAR IN OAKLAND

Vinol a wonderful preparation of Cod liver medicine, without the cod liver taste or smell, is enjoying greater popularity than ever in Oakland. The old fashioned Cod Liver Oil has always had a serious drawback—that was the heavy, greasy oil which many people could not digest. To overcome this objection, two noted French chemists, after years of study and experimenting discovered a method of separating the medicinal elements contained in the cod's liver from the useless oil of grease. To those much concerned about the taste of Cod Liver Oil, Vinol is a most agreeable form, all the medicinal elements of Cod Liver Oil and none of the oil, without oil or grease.

This makes it delicious to the taste, easily digestible and agreeable to weak stomachs. It has always been well known fact that cod liver oil was a satisfactory food, a great strength creator for young and old, and the only drawback to its becoming universally popular was its disagreeable taste.

The manufacturers of Vinol, however, now claim to have entirely overcome this inherent serious handicap, and have many testimonials from notable people spread far and wide to prove their claim. It is sold with the understanding that it does not give perfect satisfaction, money will be refunded.

Club to Divulge 'Secret' It's Much Too Good to Keep

MISS MABEL HERMAN, PRESIDENT OF BONITA CLUB, WHO WON'T DIVULGE "A WOMAN'S SECRET."

Is "A Woman's Secret" a new kind of their anniversary banquet, and not before. Curious ones are besieging the committee—but a secret, even a woman's, they say, isn't secret if you tell, and they are going to prove the exception that proves the rule that women cannot keep secrets. They won't keep this one long—but they will keep it until the date set.

Whether it's a brazen act or a new recipe for face cream is the question—or rather the secret. The unmasking will follow a banquet, to be given in the club's headquarters.

Miss Mabel Herman, president of the club, is one of the few who already know the "secret" and is the center of a storm of questions.

Margaret Traynor, Alvie Rasmussen and Veronica McManners are also in on it. Others, who may know and may not, are the officers, Hazel Carter, vice-president; Annie Ward, treasurer; Mary Barash, sergeant-at-arms, and the committee, Olive Rowlands, Edna Jose, Esther Borg, Constance Martindale, Margaret Traynor, Alvie Rossmussen, Georgia Cate, Margaret Easton, Alga Ipsen, Verona McManners, Anna, Jessie, Parash, Helen Lancel, Rhea Schler, Laura Lanchstrom, Marion Stout, Bernice Chamberlain.

SAID HE ASKED MERCY.

"While I was lying on the floor, begging for mercy, Cradelaugh kicked me. I was then taken down to the barroom in the hotel and given a drink. People interfered and I was taken to jail again."

Sears, a clerk in the Martinez pharmacy, told of the incident, but was unable to tell from his room if Nelson was the man being beaten.

JAILED AT MARTINEZ.

Nelson was first taken into custody at Guerneville, Sonoma county, and then hurried to the county jail at Santa Rosa; thence he was taken by his captors to Sacramento and later to San Francisco, and finally to the county jail here, where Cradelaugh asked Sheriff Vreale for the courtesy of keeping the prisoner overnight.

The remainder of the witnesses for the prosecution will in all probability be examined on this afternoon, and it is expected that the defense will be able to conclude its testimony sometime tomorrow, so that the case will either go to the jury Saturday or Tuesday.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 26.—Thomas Dozier of San Francisco and Everett B. Taylor of this city tried for three hours yesterday afternoon to break down the testimony of Nelson in the trial of P. Cradelaugh, Burns Detective, charged with having assaulted and beaten up Nelson, alleged I W. W. while the latter was a prisoner in the custody of the Burns man. Nelson throughout the cross-examination held to his story of the alleged beating administered by Cradelaugh.

The remainder of the witnesses for the prosecution will in all probability be examined on this afternoon, and it is expected that the defense will be able to conclude its testimony sometime tomorrow, so that the case will either go to the jury Saturday or Tuesday.
